

Senior PHP Developer

Holler Sydney is a digital agency located in Surry Hills, Sydney. We're best known for our online work, but produce offline digital work as well.

We are seeking a Senior PHP Web Developer to join our development team. This position is for a developer who is passionate about their craft, possesses a positive attitude, and strong attention to detail.

In this position you will be tackling a varying mixture of technological challenges. In the last month we have actively developed: short-term promotional websites, a feed driven Silverstripe website, an iPhone app, multiple Facebook apps, and a Magento store.
